Buckinghamshire Council are also offering support in a number of ways to any family that needs a little extra help during the Covid crisis. In particular they want to ensure that families with children eligible for free school meals can access a wide range of support. You can call the Council on 01296 395000 and speak to a member of our 'Helping Hand' team who will help work out what services can support you.

· Residents can drop into 'Council Access Plus' points in Aylesbury and Amersham and High Wycombe Library.
· The Council's Contact Centre will help people to make contact with local community solutions and foodbanks.
· The Council can also arrange for food boxes or supermarket food vouchers.
